The impact of Carl Orff's ideas has influenced music and dance education in many parts of the world. The educational principles of his and Gunild Keetman's Schulwerk are universal and based on his belief in the creative and artistic nature of mankind. The Orff Institute of the Mozarteum University in Salzburg, Austria is the centre of this international movement in music and dance education.

This university course addresses pedagogues at a post-graduate level from all over the world who have already had training or experience in music and dance education based on the pedagogical concepts of Orff-Schulwerk.

It offers experienced music and dance teachers an intensive and concentrated setting in one of the world's most well-known integrative methods in music and dance pedagogy based on the historical Orff-Schulwerk that has been further developed according to contemporary aesthetic education.
